SECRETARY COOPER SUSTAINED.

In a decision handed down by the Supreme Court Saturday it is held that school teachers and election clerks are not officers within the meaning of the act which provides that no officer drawing a salary of $1200 or more can receive additional compensation for any other government duties. The case came up on a submission by Secretary Cooper and Auditor Austin, the latter having refused to issue the warrants for the payment of W. A. Ray, E. W. Estep and J. W. Moanaupi as inspectors of election, and W. R. Kamaoua as clerk at the special election held in Hilo last December. The first two are school principals, Moanaupi is a deputy sheriff and Kamaoua a sub-agent of public lands. The auditor is upheld as to his refusal to issue a warrant to Moanaupi, but overruled as to the remaining three.

The court holds that teachers are not officers, defining officers as follows: "In our opinion, one is not an officer where, as in this instance, the law does not recognize by providing for his appointment or his pay or his duties or in any way, but he is engaged by other officers to temporarily assist them and is paid according to his contract with them out of an appropriation for general expenses."

The syllabus of the decision follows: "The salaries appropriation act provides that a person who holds more than one office shall not draw more than the salary of the highest if that amounts to $1200 a year. The current expense act contains no such provision. Held:

"This provision applies where the salary of one such office is payable under the former act and the salary of the other under the latter act."

"Within the meaning of this provision, deputy sheriffs, public land agents and inspectors of election are officers, but public school teachers and clerks of election precincts are not."

WAILUKU, Maui, May 1, 1902.
Dear Sirs: In my innocence I purchased in Honolulu a jar of your

Pin-Money Pickles
It brought me great trouble, and one of three things must occur:

1. You must stop making them; or
2. I must get them at less expense; or
3. I am a ruined man.

Since my first venture I've had many "jars." My family and neighbors ring the door-bell and shout "Pickles!" relatives visit me in expectation of "Pickles." Your pickles are my Nemesis.

Since, dear sirs, quote them up the keg, barrel, hoghead, gun or shipload, and "preserve" me. Yours very truly,
CARROLL WHITEAKER.

P. S.: I want Greenias, Cauld, Shaws, Cules, Marysias, Mixed, Shaws and Manges.
